

2010 Deacon Report
Chris Lloyd

2010, what a year. If I've learned anything after three years of being a deacon it's that the people at Emmanuel embrace change. That's a great trait to embody as a church.

One of the more significant changes in 2010 was the gym renovation project. After all the planning, fundraising and renovating that went into the conversion, we now have a space that works better for both mid-week activities and Sunday morning worship. Praise God!

Moving into 2011, there is of course more change on the horizon. We're moving forward and expanding our tent pegs. At our fall congregational meeting Iris-Lee Koch said the building project is all about "sharing our stuff." I love that. Our church is about embracing our community and it's my vision and my prayer that whatever we do, whatever we build only increases our capacity to love our neighbours.

In everything we do, may His kingdom come and His will be done.

In Christ,
Chris Lloyd
